Is no impoverished bargain counter flour, but it is the best bargain flour when the loaves are weighed and counted.

That's why it's worth the price it brings.

It is richest in gluten, retains its moisture longer and makes big, white delicious loaves.

The first bag of CERESOTA will convince you as much as a barrel.

A trial will be enough.

Remedies are Needed

Were we perfect, which we are not, medicines would not often be needed. But since our systems have become weakened, impaired and broken down through indiscretions which have gone on from the early ages, through countless generations, remedies are needed to aid Nature in correcting our inherited and otherwise acquired weaknesses. To reach the seat of stomach weakness and consequent digestive troubles, there is nothing so good as Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, a glyceric compound, extracted from native medicinal roots—sold for over forty years with great satisfaction to all users. For Weak Stomach, Biliousness, Liver Complaint, Pain in the Stomach after eating, Heartburn, Bad Breath, Belching of food, Chronic Diarrhea and other Intestinal Derangements, the "Discovery" is a time-proven and most efficient remedy.

The genuine has on its outside wrapper the Signature

You can't afford to accept a secret nostrum as a substitute for this non-alcoholic, medicine or known composition, not even though the urgent dealer may thereby make a little higher profit.
Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets regulate and invigorate stomach, liver and bowels. Sugar-coated, tiny granules, easy to take as candy.

WOMAN DIED IN STREET

Peculiar Circumstances About Brooklyn Case

VICTIM IS NOT IDENTIFIED

The Police Believe That She Was Given "Knockout Drops"—She Died Without Recovering Consciousness.

New York, Oct. 21.—A young woman was found at 2 o'clock yesterday morning lying bruised and unconscious on the sidewalk at one of the busiest corners of downtown Brooklyn. She died two hours later at the Brooklyn hospital without having recovered consciousness. There was no mark on her clothing by which she could be identified and she was unknown to the police. Coroner Brewer was notified and an autopsy will probably be held to determine the cause of her death.

"Knockout drops" was the verdict of the police. Two severe blows at least had been inflicted on her, one of which caused discoloration around the left eye and the other a deep cut on the upper lip. Policeman John Noon of the Adams street station, found the young woman lying only two blocks from the station house at the corner of the Brooklyn & New York Casket company. This is at the corner of Pearl street and Myrtle avenue, a crossway so thronged with pedestrians and so frequently traversed by trolley cars and overhead trains that there is hardly a moment there favorable for a deed of darkness even in the dead of night.

The first thing that Policeman Noon noticed when he raised the unconscious form was that the woman was good looking. She was also well dressed. He smelled her breath and was not sure, but thought he detected the odor of a drug. When Dr. Dukeshire came in an ambulance from Long Island college hospital he removed the young woman to the Adams street police station. There he worked over her for an hour. At the end of that time he gave up hope of reviving her and took her to the Brooklyn hospital, still in a state of deep coma.

Not far from where the woman was found a pocketbook was picked up from the sidewalk, but its contents did not serve to identify her, as it had nothing in it but articles for making a field toilet, a comb and a piece of soap. The policeman of the Adams street station are familiar with the appearance of the women who frequent the streets at night in the shopping district, which is known as the Tenderloin of Brooklyn, and none of them had ever seen the unconscious woman before. Yesterday morning a report was spread about that the woman was "thrown out of a saloon and left to lie where she fell."

The woman was about 35 years old, 5 feet 4 inches tall, and weighed 140 pounds. Her hair was light colored, and her upper teeth were false. She wore a black straw hat with a velvet band with a buckle and feather. The inventory of her other effects, according to the police, included a three-quarter length black broadcloth coat, black lawn waist, black alpaca skirt, white petticoat, black stockings and shoes, blue and white kimono, white corset cover and corsets, and striped cotton underwear.

The woman died at the Brooklyn hospital.

MAY ACCEPT ELIOT CREED

Universalist Church is Debating the Possibility

AT ANNUAL CONVENTION

It is Said That the Former Active Head of Harvard University Will Be Present at Detroit to Explain His Views.

Detroit, Mich., Oct. 21.—As a preliminary to the biennial convention of the Universalist church, which opened here today, the national board of trustees of the church was in session yesterday. While the question of an endorsement of the religious creed recently suggested by former President Charles W. Eliot of Harvard university, does not appear upon the convention program, it is said that the question will undoubtedly come up for discussion. It has been suggested also that Dr. Eliot may attend some of the sessions of the convention. Among the recommendations to be made by the board of trustees will be one for the establishment of a commission on the appointment of a secretary for the advancement of Sunday schools; a plan for the training of Sunday school teachers and for graded lessons in the schools and the promotion of adult Bible classes.

GIRL ADMITS LIE IN WITNESS STAND

And John Worthington, a Wealthy Georgia Planter, Convicted of Ravishing Her, Will Be Released From Jail.

Rome, Ga., Oct. 21.—Three weeks ago John Worthington, a wealthy planter, was convicted of ravishing Rosa Elrod, aged 17 years, the daughter of a neighbor, and sentenced to the penitentiary for twenty years. Rosa was practically the only witness against Worthington. She took the stand and related in detail the story of the outrage, and the jury at once convicted. Worthington stoutly denied the crime and said there was a plot to ruin him.

Two days ago Rosa went to Worthington's attorneys and made affidavit that she had perjured herself. She said she loved Worthington but he refused to marry her and she swore he outraged her for revenge.

Her confession has caused a great sensation and so much bitterness against the Elrods that they have left the country. As a result of the girl's confession Worthington will at once be released.

AFTER HEARST NOW.

Fusion Leaders Think He Is the Man They Must Defeat.

New York, Oct. 21.—The fusion forces in the city campaign yesterday turned their guns on William R. Hearst, the candidate of the Civic Alliance. Monday night Mr. Hearst attacked the fusion candidate, Otto T. Bannard, and now the lines in the three-cornered fight are clearly drawn. Until this week Mr. Hearst and Mr. Bannard had paid each other but little attention, both graciously sacrificing themselves with the statements that it did not make much difference who was mayor so long as the rest of the anti-Tammany ticket was elected. Some of the fusion leaders said yesterday that Mr. Hearst was more to be feared than Judge Gaynor, the Democratic candidate, and that he would receive proper attention from the fusion platform for the rest of the campaign.
